V. PREDICATE

On December 21, 2013 at approximately 5:00pm, Officer William Smith reports conducting a security check in G-dormitory, wing one. During the security check, Officer Smith approached cell 1217 and observed a sheet hanging from the door. Officer Smith pulled the sheet down from the door way and observed Inmate David Shelby, DC# 274254 sitting on the toilet talking on a cell phone. Officer Smith ordered Inmate Shelby to surrender the cell phone and submit to hand-restraints. Inmate Shelby complied with orders and Officer Smith confiscated the cell phone and placed hand-restraints on him.

The cellular phone is described as a black and gray flip style Verizon phone with camera capabilities. During further investigation, Inmate Shelby completed a written statement alleging he gave Sergeant T. Pierce $300.00 via a green-dot money transfer for the phone which was later delivered to him by an inmate known only by the nickname of, "Sandman."

This information was reported in MINS 530432 on December 21, 2013, and assigned to Senior Inspector Aubrey Land for criminal investigation.

NARRATIVE:

VI. SUMMARY OF INVESTIGATIVE FINDINGS

Based on the exhibits, witnesses' testimony, subject officer's statements, and the record as a whole, presented or available to the primary inspector, the following findings of facts were determined:

This inspector began an investigation into allegations of correctional staff at Hamilton Correctional Institution (HCI) introducing illicit contraband; cigarettes, tobacco, cell phone, and narcotics into the secure perimeter of HCI in exchange for monetary reward. This inspector, together with other Inspectors have conducted several sworn interviews of inmate offenders and civilians, which furthered the investigation and supported the issuance of subpoenas for money wire transfers, and phone and banking records.

Within the four corners of this inspector's affidavit, it is documented, a portion of the information so discovered against two of the conspirators which reveals probable cause to believe defendants, Johnnie Young and Tom Pierce, both correctional officers at HCI at the time of the criminal acts, knowingly and willfully diverted monies, financial transactions, wire transfers and other exchanges of currency, to further a criminal enterprise with the intent to elude detection contrary to §898.101(1). The purpose of the criminal enterprise was to introduce contraband into HCI.

During sworn interviews with inmate conspirators, this inspector was advised of several such payments were utilized via Green-dot money transfers, and applied to pre-paid debit cards owned or possessed by Sergeant Pierce. The investigation further uncovered evidence suggesting Officer Young utilized her known P.O. Box identified as 529, White Springs, Florida 32096, for receiving both contraband and financial transactions in the form U.S. Currency and Green-dot money packs. It was based on this information; this inspector requested and was issued subpoenas for prepaid debit card transactions in the names of Johnnie Young and Tom Pierce. Upon receiving one of the requested documents, this inspector discovered both defendants had obtained Green-dot bank cards and were receiving alarming amounts of deposits which were suspicious. Further supporting this inspector's belief, these transactions caused Green-dot bank to suspend both cards, as well as the account holders from conducting further business with the financial institution months prior to the issuance of the subpoenas, noting unusual cash loading activities on these cards.

This inspector discovered a cell phone had been confiscated from Inmate Douglas Gilding. A search of the phone identified text messages had been exchanged between Inmate Gilding's phone and the known phone number belonging to Officer Young. Said communications are a violation of § 944.47(1)(A)(1).

During a sworn interview of Inmate Gilding, he provided testimony alleging to have directed his girlfriend, Brandy Orr to send the phone discovered in his possession to P.O. Box 529, White Springs, Florida 32096, together with other items of illicit contraband and a $500.00 Green-dot money pack to be paid for the introduction of the items. Inmate Gilding testified, after the phone and other items were mailed to the White Springs address, Inmate Randall Grice met with Sergeant Pierce and received the items.

This inspector conducted a sworn interview with Ms. Orr who provided testimony supporting Inmate Gilding's testimony. Additionally, Ms. Orr provided this inspector with receipts for Green-dot money packs which were provided as payment for the introduction of the contraband. Additionally, Ms. Orr was shown the phone discovered in Inmate Gilding's possession and identified it as being consistent with one of the phones she mailed to the White Springs address. Said introduction of cellular devices are a violation of § 944.47(1)(A)(6).

During an interview of Inmate Randall Grice, he testified he was involved in the introduction of contraband from correctional staff at HCI. According to Inmate Grice, the staff members involved were; Sergeant Pierce and Officers Young and Smith (believed to be former officer, Frank Smith). Inmate Grice began obtaining contraband from the staff in July 2013 and continued until November 2013. During this time, Inmate Grice paid Sergeant Pierce thousands of dollars, mostly by providing Green-dot money packs as payment.

Inmate Grice was in direct contact with Sergeant Pierce and would take orders for contraband from other inmates who obtained the Green-dot transaction codes from family and friends. Once the money was confirmed, Sergeant Pierce would load the money onto his prepaid card and exchange the requested contraband.

FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS
OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL
CASE SUMMARY REPORT

Inmate Grice identified the contraband items he received from Sergeant Pierce as; tobacco, K-2 spice, cell phones, and Creatine supplements. Sergeant Pierce would sell small flip style phones and tobacco items on demand, but if someone wanted a smart phone or particular items, they would be mailed to P.O. Box 529, White Springs, Florida 32096. Once the mailing was confirmed, Inmate Grice would text a message to (386) 234-0449, advising a package had been sent. Inmate Grice always attached a signature to the text, "M.O.B." and the response would contain a signature of, "Self truth."

Inmate Grice claims he did not know who he was texting until Sergeant Pierce directed him to go to Officer Young's dormitory to retrieve a paint bucket. After obtaining the item, Officer Young responded, "So, M.O.B. huh?" Inmate Grice relied, "yes," Officer Young responded, "Self Truth is better." Inmate Grice then knew Officer Young was the person he had been communicating with via text messages. When asked, Inmate Grice denied having ever purchased any items directly from Officer Young. Additionally, no further information was provided concerning Officer Smith.

In addition to the above testimony, This inspector discovered two payments from family members of inmates housed at HCI to accounts payable to Johnnie Young in violation of § 838.16.

During post arrest, post Miranda interview with Officer Johnnie Young she admitted to receiving all the money deposited on her Green-dot prepaid card from inmates under her supervision in agreement to introduce contraband into Hamilton Correctional Institution. Additionally Officer Young admitted to receiving illicit contraband from persons related to inmates.

During post arrest, post Miranda interview with Sergeant Pierce he admitted to receiving Green-dot money transactions from inmates under his supervision in exchange for introducing contraband cigarette into Hamilton Correctional Institution.

Based on the above findings, this inspector finds reason to and does believe Officer Young and Sergeant Pierce have violated the laws of the State of Florida, as listed above.

PLAYLIST FAV'S YOU & PROBLEM OF BLACK INK CREW

Diamond Lane America in 2014 and more heat for the airwaves as well as the clubs.

Black Men: What would you say has been your biggest accomplishment or biggest moment to this point?

Problem: Biggest moment for me would be being involved in this year's Grammy's, and being nominated. That's pretty exciting. That was a big deal for me. Also, dropping my first project for sale, that happened just recently. Being able to sell out 50,000 and headlining shows—[2013 was] a big year. I can't really pinpoint.

What's it like as an artist critiquing your own work? Usually artists are their own hardest critics, but at the same time, they're biased towards their own work as well.

The fact that I engineer and produce, it makes it hard for me to listen to music or even enjoy any of my projects until they're out because at that time, there's nothing I can really do about it. It's like, okay, I can now really listen to them, listen to the hi-hats, the strings, the ad-libs.

How do you work alongside other producers being that you are one?

It's the shit. They're quick to point out they're not used to rappers being able to speak the lingo. They make it that much better. I understand what I'm doing and they understand what they're doing. It makes everything easier since there's nobody with an ego. We both meet somewhere sonically.

Rap fans know about the impact and influence that Compton has had on Hip-Hop culture. Do you feel there's extra added pressure just from the fact you're out there reppin' Compton?

Man, I feel like there's so many different stories and people. It's just about you making your own and this is my story. Dre, Kendrick and Game had theirs, and this is mine. We're all different artists with a story to tell.

Problem

Life of the Party

Do you think that rapping about having fun makes you more relatable to the younger crowds as opposed to rapping about sad sob stories?

Yeah, people just want to be happy on some real shit. They want to know who you are. They got their own problems.

It must be quite humbling to know West Coast legends like Game, Too Short and Snoop have shown love. What does it mean to you to start from the bottom and be able to gain the respect of those rappers who've been there before you?

I wouldn't trade it for the world. With all the work I've put in, I know I'm nothing without these artists. They were on while I was the writer in the back. I'm just showing my appreciation for them.

What type of vibe or feeling are you trying to give off to your fans with your upcoming album?

Well, I just dropped an EP. That's going well and was just a prelude to what I have coming up. Diamond Lane America is the name of my next project. It'll solely feature other artists in the Diamond Lane lineup. I'm going to produce it and basically I'll tell you where we came from and where we are musically. You'll just have to wait and see. Just know it comes from a sincere place. This can be one of those albums that make you feel something.

You seem to really have found yourself a home with Diamond Lane, so looking back, how were you able to use that past experience you had with Universal and help make yourself more knowledgeable about the business side of music?

It just made me more prepared. I'm now with the best label in the world. We're majorly independent. I get to talk to my people. One of the biggest things with a label is communication or the lack of. I don't take these relationships for granted. I gotta be comfortable first before it even gets to the music.

The West Coast Hip-Hop scene over the past couple decades has been a staple in rap history. Whether it was N.W.A.'s rebellious run in the late '80s or the Death Row movement in the '90s, the city of LA has provided rap fans with tons of great stories to tell and even better storytellers to tell them. When it comes to the life of the party—which there are tons of in LA—Compton-born rapper Problem is the go-to guy. While another Compton product in Kendrick Lamar is making his name in conscious rap, Problem is heralded as the go-to guy for the radio smashes.

After a string of mixtape releases, the Diamond Lane Music Group emcee dropped a national hit with "Like What," an infectious beat which spawned a remix featuring notable names such as Tyga and Chris Brown. Having earned the respect of his West Coast peers such as Snoop Dogg—whom he's written for in the late nights—Game, Too Short, and Tyga, Problem is on his way to be next among that list of West Coast rapper-turned-national-hittrackers. Imagine working ten plus years towards your dream only to see it be mismanaged several times along the way. Memphis' own Yo Gotti knows that position all too well. After becoming one of the most acclaimed rappers in the south, Gotti finally gets his much deserved chance at a national spotlight with a recording and distribution deal with Epic Records. His time is now and he is making the most of every hour. Black Men magazine caught up with the self-proclaimed "King Of M Town" to discuss his new album, I Am, Memphis and the hustle of a lifetime.

Black Men Magazine: Your come up hasn't been an easy one. What has the entire journey taught you?

Yo Gotti: I did a couple of [record] deals that didn't pan out the way I wanted them to pan out. I don't regret anything because those situations made me the man who I am today. The way I do business today, the way I invest in myself, my own money, my own staff is part of what molded me in this space. You got to stay focused and dedicated. You get what you put in. The hard work will determine what you benefit.

What's your vision for your label CMG Records?

Of course I just released my album, I Am, which was the first project under that partnership. Right now, I just signed an artist called Snootie; he's one of the hottest artists coming out of the south right now. He got a big song called "Yayo." Basically, we are just trying to build an empire, man. We're looking for new talent, the right talent, really.

What other types of business interest you in terms of diversifying your earnings and profit channels?

Yeah, I do a lot of real estate. I own a lot of commercial and residential properties in Memphis. I'm trying to buy half the town. Anything that flips money, that is positive,

I'm with it. I've also invested in some other peoples' businesses, so I'm also an investor.

Memphis is such a historic city, what can you tell us about the nightlife?

You have to go to Pure Passion [strip club] on Monday nights if you want to check out the female prospects. We got a couple more clubs out here, like A-Game [Restaurant Bar] that's a cool spot to go to. And we got this new spot called Prive.

In terms of food if you come to Memphis you have to eat some soul food or barbeque. I think we got the best barbeque out there. Me, personally, I suggest someone's house [laughs]. But, anywhere you go the barbeque is going to be on point.

What can we expect from Yo Gotti in 2014?

To keep grinding and turn it up a notch. We are shooting the videos for "Cold Blood" with J. Cole and "F-U" with Meek Mill. So, we're still promoting the album and still pushing.

My biggest hustle thus far is music, but I just feel like as long as I am free, and I can walk and talk and see things, I am my own business. I will figure out how to get money and how to win. As long I am here I am the hustle.

Clifton Millbrook # E-36875, PVSP; PO Box 8500; Coalinga, CA 93210 [Address Current as of:20-Feb-2013]	CA	Good morning. My name us Mr. Clifton Millbrook- 40 years of age, brown eyes, long black dreadlocks, 6 feet in height, 213 in weight, Sagittarius, aggressive in nature, but passionate at heart without any violent tendencies. Straight black man who has been hurt many, may, many, many, many, many times by mindless yet heartless women... So I was wondering, but truly seeking to know- What is the difference between dating a transgender woman and a straight woman? Is it safe? Because I was seriously considering possible opening my heart and mind to the possibility of maybe finding a transgender woman to start a life with beyond these prison walls; that is if there are NO mental gymnastics of the mind and heart involved.					40	Cisman	He	Straight	Black
